

European Logging Fiber Optic Cable Brands

Overview

Top 15 Fiber Optic Cable Companies in Europe 2026A 2026 ranking of the top 15 fiber optic cable companies in Europe — Prysmian, Nexans, Nokia, Leoni, Acome.

Key Takeaways

Leading European fiber optic cable brands include Prysmian Group, Nexans, Huber+Suhner, Leoni, and Draka, known for high-quality, innovative, and sustainable cabling solutions. Top European Fiber Optic Cable Manufacturers

1. Prysmian Group (Italy) Prysmian Group is the world's largest cable manufacturer, with a strong European presence. They offer a wide range of fiber optic cables for telecommunications, data centers, FTTH rollouts, and subsea applications. Notable innovations include BendBrightXS fibers for tight bends without signal loss and Hollow-Core Fiber (HCF) for ultra-high-speed data transmission. Their EcoSense® Nxt line emphasizes sustainability with a 50% lower CO₂ footprint, meeting strict European environmental standards .

2. Nexans (France) Nexans provides fiber optic cables that comply with stringent European fire standards (CPR-compliant), ensuring safety and signal integrity. Their products are widely used in telecommunications, industrial infrastructure, and renewable energy projects. Nexans is recognized for high-quality materials and reliable performance in both indoor and outdoor applications .

3. Huber+Suhner (Switzerland) Huber+Suhner specializes in high-density optical connectivity solutions. Their Masterline® fiber optic assemblies and IANOS® modular distribution platforms are designed for rapid deployment in hyperscale data centers and AI training clusters. They also supply radio-over-fiber systems and distributed antenna infrastructure, serving telecom, railway, aerospace, and defense sectors .

4. Leoni (Germany) Leoni focuses on fiber optic solutions for automotive and industrial markets. They provide cables for in-vehicle infotainment, ADAS systems, and industrial automation. Leoni is known for precision engineering and reliability, supporting both high-speed data transfer and harsh environmental conditions .

5. Draka (Netherlands, part of Prysmian Group) Draka offers high-quality fiber optic and copper cables for telecom, energy, and industrial applications. As part of Prysmian, Draka benefits from global R&D and manufacturing capabilities, providing robust solutions for European and international markets .

6. Other Notable Brands

- Technokabel (Poland): Industrial and telecom fiber optic cables with flexible customization options .
- Samm Teknoloji (Turkey): Indoor/outdoor fiber optic cables and passive network infrastructure .
- WEINERT Industries AG (Germany): Special optical fibers, polymer optical fibers, and hybrid cables for diverse applications .
- TKH Group (Netherlands): Advanced connectivity solutions for industrial automation and data centers .

Key Considerations

European fiber optic brands are distinguished by:

- Technological innovation: Proprietary fibers, high-density assemblies, and subsea solutions.
- Sustainability: Compliance with EU environmental regulations and low-carbon manufacturing.
- Diverse applications: Telecommunications, data centers, automotive, industrial, and defense.

- Regional manufacturing presence: Ensures supply chain security and rapid deployment across Europe. These brands collectively represent the leading edge of fiber optic technology in Europe, offering reliable, high-performance, and environmentally responsible solutions for modern connectivity needs .
