Key Takeaways

Lighting distribution boxes in Uganda typically cost between UGX 150,000 and UGX 500,000, depending on size, brand, and features. Price Range and Factors

- Entry-level indoor distribution boxes for small residential setups can start from around UGX 150,000 on platforms like Jiji.ug and Amin.ug .
- Mid-range boxes suitable for larger homes or small commercial installations generally range from UGX 250,000 to UGX 400,000, depending on the number of circuits and quality of materials .
- High-end or branded boxes, such as those from CHINT Uganda, may cost UGX 500,000 or more, especially if they include advanced features like modular design, surge protection, or compatibility with smart metering systems .

Additional Considerations

- Indoor vs. outdoor use: Indoor boxes are generally cheaper, while outdoor-rated boxes with weatherproofing cost more.
- Number of circuits: Boxes with more circuit slots or higher amperage ratings are priced higher.

- Brand and warranty: Established brands like CHINT offer longer warranties and better quality assurance, which can justify higher prices.
- Supplier and delivery: Prices may vary between online marketplaces (Jumia, Amin) and local electrical suppliers, and delivery or installation may add to the total cost . For the most accurate pricing, it is recommended to check local suppliers or online marketplaces and request quotes for the specific type and capacity of the distribution box you need. This ensures you account for current stock, shipping, and any additional installation costs.
