

Low-loss CIF price of spiral wound tubing

Overview

Global Spiral Wound Polyimide Tubing Market 2026The global market for spiral wound polyimide tubing is primarily propelled by the rapid expansion of minima.

Key Takeaways

CIF prices for low-loss spiral wound tubing typically range from $2 to $6 per meter, depending on material, diameter, and supplier.Market Overview

Low-loss spiral wound tubing is used in electrical insulation, fluid transfer, and protective applications, often requiring materials like Mylar® polyester for high dielectric strength and minimal signal loss . The global spiral wound tubing market is growing steadily, with major suppliers including Paramount Tube, Corex Group, and WEIG Packaging Group, and applications spanning industrial packaging, automotive, and construction sectors . Material choice (paper, plastic, or metal) and tube dimensions significantly affect pricing.

CIF Pricing Considerations

- Material Type: Polyester or low-loss dielectric materials are more expensive than standard paper or plastic tubes.
- Dimensions: Larger diameters or thicker walls increase cost.
- Quantity: Bulk orders reduce per-unit CIF cost.
- Shipping & Insurance: CIF includes freight and insurance to the destination port, which varies by origin and shipping method.

- Supplier & Region: Prices differ between North America, Europe, and Asia-Pacific due to manufacturing and logistics costs .

Estimated CIF Price Range

Based on market trends and material specifications, low-loss spiral wound tubing CIF prices generally fall between $2 and $6 per meter. Custom specifications, such as heat-shrinkable or high-dielectric Mylar® tubes, may push prices higher . For precise quotes, it is recommended to contact suppliers directly, providing details on material, dimensions, quantity, and destination port.

Recommended Suppliers

- Politubes: Offers Mylar® DuPont spiral wound tubes with high dielectric strength and low-loss properties .
- Paramount Tube and Corex Group: Major global suppliers with experience in industrial and packaging applications .
- Local Distributors: Many suppliers have regional distributors who can provide CIF quotes and handle logistics. For accurate CIF pricing, request a formal quotation from suppliers including shipping, insurance, and any applicable customs duties.
