

US Fiber Optic Connector Agent

Overview

Strategic Sourcing International (SSI) provides professional fiber optic cable and connector sourcing services for US companies.

Key Takeaways

US Conec, Optix America, QPC Fiber Optic, and Strategic Sourcing International are key US-based agents and suppliers for fiber optic connectors. Key US-Based Fiber Optic Connector Agents

US Conec is a leading manufacturer of precision optical interconnect components and connector solutions. They provide standardized and custom ferrules, multi-fiber connectors, and high-density solutions designed for reliable fiber optic networks. Their products are engineered for low loss, field serviceability, and compliance with industry standards, making them a trusted source for telecom and data center applications (US Conec) . Optix America specializes in fiber optic products and solutions with over 30 years of experience. They offer a wide range of connectors, including splice-on connectors (3XSOC) and fusion splicing equipment, supported by a 20-year product warranty. Optix America works through a network of distributors and local representatives across the USA and Canada, ensuring fast delivery and technical support (Optix America) . QPC Fiber Optic, LLC is headquartered in Southern California with additional facilities in Ohio. They design and manufacture fiber optic connectors, cable assemblies, and custom products for harsh environments. QPC provides both standard and expanded beam connectors, emphasizing precision alignment and low insertion loss, serving customers worldwide since 1999 (QPC Fiber Optic) . Strategic Sourcing International (SSI) acts as a professional sourcing agent for US companies, connecting them with verified global manufacturers of fiber optic cables and connectors. SSI focuses on supplier verification, quality control, cost optimization, and reliable delivery, making them a valuable partner for businesses seeking customized or standard fiber optic solutions while minimizing supply chain risk (SSI) .

Choosing the Right Agent

When selecting a US fiber optic connector agent, consider:

- Product Range: Multi-fiber, single-fiber, or expanded beam connectors.
 - Technical Support: Availability of field service, splicing guidance, and troubleshooting.
 - Delivery and Sourcing: Local stock versus global sourcing capabilities.
 - Compliance and Quality: Adherence to industry standards and warranty coverage.
- These companies provide a combination of manufacturing, distribution, and sourcing services, making them suitable for telecom, networking, and industrial fiber optic projects in the United States.
